Hello Katrina,

Thank you for the clarification. I was not sure from the drawings if the areas you have highlighted were sufficient for a trash truck to turn around.

I have no issues with the project in that case.

Sincerely,

Bill Pastoor

William-

I am not sure what is meant by turning a truck around? A truck can loop through the entire site. In addition, the radii are such that a fire truck has similar access so I am assuming your vehicles shouldn't be a problem?

Attached is a new site plan that has all the drive aisles dimensioned in addition to the dimension of the enclosure itself.

Let me know if you need anything further for clarification,

I don't see any dimensions for the trash enclosure on page 7 of this drawing. Also, is the drive isle between the buildings sufficient enough to turn a trash truck around?
